Information on the Use of Cookies

This website uses cookie technology to improve user experience, collect information about the use of the website, and enhance user friendliness. With the information provided below, we aim to clearly explain what cookies are and what their purpose is – specifically those cookies that are used on www.t-center.si.

What Are Cookies?

A cookie is a small text file that a website automatically assigns or sends to a browser (if the website uses cookies). When a user revisits the website using the same browser, the data stored in the cookie is transmitted by the browser back to the website, allowing it to recognize the user's previous activities.

Cookies cannot contain viruses, Trojan horses, or other malicious code.

Cookies usually contain:

- the name of the server from which the cookie was sent,
- the cookie's lifetime,
- a value, which is usually a randomly generated unique number.

Types of Cookies

Persistent Cookies

Persistent cookies remain stored even after the user closes the browser and ends the session. Websites may use them to store registration information, language preferences, or to analyze website traffic. These cookies may be stored for several days, months, or even years.

Session Cookies

Session cookies remain stored only until the user closes the browser or ends the session. Websites use them to store temporary information, such as items in a shopping cart, enhanced security in online banking, or information about a website visit.
